DEPARTMENT OF ADMINISTRATION ORGANIZATIONAL CIRCULAR NO. 07-032

To: All Heads of Non-autonomous Departments and Agencies
From: Director, Department of Administration
Subject: Overtime and Compensatory Time

Buenas! This Circular is to serve as a reminder to all department heads and administrators of the appropriate application of overtime and compensatory time in accordance with the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) and the Department of Administration (DOA) Personnel Rules and Regulations, Chapter 7.400. The Governor's Executive Order 2005-28 and the DOA Organizational Circular 05-022 define the new rules of the U. S. Department of Labor (USDOL) with regard to employees' eligibility for overtime/compensatory time pay.

As you are probably aware, the U. S. Department of Labor (USDOL) representative on island has brought up some concerns over the past years with regard to the managers' disregard to the provisions of the FLSA. These concerns resulted in the investigations of some of our departments into overtime violations. Several government of Guam employees have approached the USDOL Wage and Hour representative to complain about alleged overtime abuses in some departments and agencies. In light of the budget shortfalls in many organizations, employees may have been asked to work without monetary compensation. If managers need to have employees work on compensatory time, they must have the employee's consent in writing before the compensatory time is used. Unfortunately, the FLSA does not excuse any employer (including the government of Guam), who is experiencing financial difficulties, from its overtime provisions.

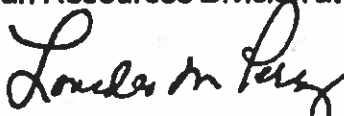

If work needs to be performed outside the employee's work schedule, administrators have the authority to use other options, instead of overtime, to get the work done. They may change the employee's work schedule within the week not to exceed 40 hours (43 for law enforcement personnel). Flexible work schedule is one program managers may explore to limit overtime. Addressees must be mindful that no overtime work should be performed without the approval and certification of availability of funds by the department head. Overtime or compensatory time worked must be recorded with the Department of Administration Payroll Branch immediately following the pay period worked. There shall be no banking of overtime hours in order to obtain a large lump sum payout. Compensatory time must also be recorded and used in a timely manner. Supervisors may require employees who have accrued compensatory time to use those hours as work permits upon a mutual agreement with the employee. Again, employees should not be allowed to bank compensatory time beyond 240 hours or 480 hours for law enforcement personnel.

Lastly, DOA has been informed that the US DOL will be sending a representative in late summer or early fall to audit departments and agencies on the application of overtime and compensatory time. Please ensure that your departments are up-to-date with all its overtime obligation and that compensatory time is officially recorded in the Payroll Office and no pending compensatory time is over the allowed time limit.

By copy of this Circular, the Bureau of Budget and Management Research is requested to assist the departments in the compliance of overtime payments.

Si Yu'os Ma'ase for your continued cooperation and support. If you have any questions regarding this subject, please contact the Human Resources Division at 475-1249 or 475-1132.

DEPARTMENT OF ADMINISTRATION ORGANIZATION CIRCULAR NO. 05-022

To: All Line Agency and Department Heads
From: Director, Department of Administration
Subject: Application of the New Rules of the U. S. Department of Labor
Re: Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA)

Buenas yan Hafa Adai! Effective August 23, 2004, the U. S. Department of Labor implemented new provisions for the application of bona fide exempt positions in the executive, administrative, professional and other categories. The exemption of these positions restricts overtime and compensatory time off for employees occupying those positions. The Governor's Executive Order 2005-28 which takes effect on August 23, 2004, lists all bona fide exempt positions in the line agencies of the Executive Branch of the government of Guam, and is included as an attachment to this Circular.

The purpose of this Circular is to explain the general mechanics by which the new rules under the Fair Labor Standards Act, as amended, will be applied to employees in the affected categories within the government. The following definitions for all exempt categories of positions are provided below for your guidance:

1. Executive Exemption. To qualify for this exemption, all of the following tests must be met:
 - The employee must be compensated on a salary basis at a rate not less than $455 per week;
 - The employee's primary duty must be managing the enterprise, or managing a customarily recognized department or subdivision of the enterprise;
 - The employee must customarily and regularly direct the work of at least two or more other full-time employees or their equivalent; and
 - The employee must have the authority to hire or fire other employees, or the employee's suggestions and recommendations as to the hiring, firing, advancement, promotion or any other change of status of other employees must be given particular weight.

NEW RULES OF U.S. DEPT. OF LABOR

2. Administrative Exemption. To qualify for the administrative employee exemption, all of the following tests must be met:

- The employee must be compensated on a salary or fee basis at a rate not less than $455 per week;
- The employee's primary duty must be the performance of office or non-manual work directly related to the management or general business operations of the employer or the employer's customers; and
- The employee's primary duty includes the exercise of discretion and independent judgment with respect to matters of significance.

3. Professional Exemption. There are four categories of professionals for exemption purposes.

A. Learned Professional Exemption: To qualify for the learned professional employee exemption, all of the following tests must be met:

- The employee must be compensated on a salary or fee basis at a rate not less than $455 per week;
- The employee's primary duty must be the performance of work requiring advanced knowledge, defined as work which is predominantly intellectual in character and which includes work requiring the consistent exercise of discretion and judgment;
- The advanced knowledge must be in a field of science or learning; and
- The advanced knowledge must be customarily acquired by a prolonged course of specialized intellectual instruction.

B. Creative Professional Exemption: To qualify for the creative professional exemption, all of the following tests must be met:

- The employee must be compensated on a salary or fee basis at a rate not less than $455 per week;
- The employee's primary duty must be the performance of work requiring invention, imagination, originality or talent in a recognized field of artistic or creative endeavor.

C. Teachers. Teachers are exempt if their primary duty is teaching, tutoring, instructing or lecturing in the activity of imparting knowledge, and if they are employed and engaged in this activity as a teacher in an educational establishment, Exempt teachers include, but are not limited to, regular academic teachers; kindergarten or nursery school teachers, teachers of gifted or disabled children; teachers of skilled and semi-skilled trades and occupations; teachers engaged in automobile driving instruction; aircraft flight instructors; home economics teachers; and vocal or instrument must teachers. The salary and salary basis requirements do not apply to bona fide teachers.

D. Practice of Law or Medicine. An employee holding a valid license or certificate permitting the practice of law or medicine is exempt if the employee is actually engaged in such a practice. An employee who holds the requisite academic degree for the general practice of medicine is also exempt if he or she is engaged in an internship or resident program for the profession. The salary and salary basis requirements do not apply to bona fide practitioners of law or medicine.

4. Highly Compensated Employees. Highly compensated employees performing office or non-manual work and paid total annual compensation of $100,000 or more (which must include at least $455 per week paid on a salary or fee basis) are exempt from the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) if the employee's primary duty includes performing office or non-manual work; and if they customarily and regularly perform at least one of the duties of an exempt executive, administrative or professional employee identified in the standard tests described above.

5. Computer Employees Exemption. To qualify for the computer employee exemption, the following tests must be met.

- The employee must be compensated either on a salary or fee basis at a rate not less than $455 per week or, if compensated on an hourly basis, at a rate not less than $27.63 an hour;
- The employee must be employed as a computer systems analyst, computer programmer, software engineer or other similarly skilled worker in the computer field performing the duties described below;
- The employee's primary duty must consist of:
 - A. The application of systems analysis techniques and procedures, including consulting with users, to determine hardware, software or system functional specifications;

NEW RULES OF THE U.S. DEPT. OF LABOR
PAGE FOUR

- B. The design, development, documentation, analysis, creation, testing or modification of computer systems or programs, including prototypes, based on and related to user or system design specifications;
- C. The design, documentation, testing, creation or modification of computer programs related to machine operating systems; or
- D. A combination of the aforementioned duties, the performance of which requires the same level of skills.

For information purposes, the exemptions provided by the FLSA and defined in the foregoing paragraphs, do not apply to police officers, detectives, deputy sheriffs, state troopers, highway patrol officers, investigators, inspectors, correctional officers, parole or probation officers, park rangers, fire fighters, paramedics, emergency medical technicians, ambulance personnel, rescue workers, hazardous materials workers and similar employees, regardless of rank or pay level, who perform work such as preventing, controlling or extinguishing fires of any type; rescuing fire, crime or accident victims; preventing or detecting crimes; conducting investigations or inspections for violations of law; performing surveillance; pursuing, restraining and apprehending suspects; detaining or supervising suspected and convicted criminals, including those on probation or parole; interviewing witnesses; interrogating and fingerprinting suspects; preparing investigative reports; or other similar work.

Additionally, the FLSA provides minimum standards that may be exceeded, but cannot be waived or reduced. Employers must comply, for example, with any Federal, State or municipal laws, regulations or ordinances establishing a higher minimum wage or lower maximum workweek than those established under the FLSA. Similarly, employers may, on their own initiative or under a collective bargaining agreement, provide a higher wage, shorter workweek, or higher overtime premium than provided under the FLSA. While collective bargaining agreements cannot waive or reduce FLSA protections, nothing in the FLSA or the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), Part 541, relieves employers from their contracted obligations under such bargaining agreement.

"Salary Basis" means that an employee is paid under his employment agreement (for government of Guam employees, the employment agreement is their Personnel Action) if he/she regularly receives each pay period, on a weekly, bi-weekly, semi-monthly, monthly or annually, a pre-determined amount constituting all or part of his compensation, which amount is not subject to reduction because of variations in the number of hours worked or in the quantity or quality of the work performed during the pay period.

Factors for determining "Primary Duty" of an employee include:

1. The relative importance of the exempt duties as compared with other types of duties.
2. The amount of time spent performing exempt work.
3. The employee's relative freedom from direct supervision.
4. The relationship between employee's salary and the wages paid to other employees for the same kind of non-exempt work

In time of emergencies, exempt employees will not lose the exemption by performing work of a normally non-exempt nature because of the existence of an emergency. Thus, when emergencies arise that threaten the safety of employees, a cessation of operations or serious damage to the employer's property, any work performed in an effort to prevent such results is considered exempt work. Hence, exempt employees called in for emergency work will not be entitled to overtime or compensatory time off.

For purposes of Public Accountability, 29 CFR Section 541.710 provides that exempt employees of a public agency shall not be disqualified from exemption on the basis that such employee is paid according to a pay system established by statute, ordinance or regulation, or by a policy or practice established pursuant to principles of public accountability, under which the employee accrues personal leave and sick leave and which requires the public agency employee's pay to be reduced or such employee to be placed on leave without pay for absences for personal reasons or because of illness or injury of less than one work day when accrued leave is not used by the employee because:

1. Permission for its use has not been sought, or has been sought and denied;
2. Accrued leave has been exhausted;
3. The employee chooses to use leave without pay.

Pay docking for budget required furlough does not disqualify the employee from being paid on a salary basis, except in the work-week in which furlough occurs and for which the employee's pay is accordingly reduced.

Additionally under public accountability, employers, without affecting employees' exempt status, may take deductions from accrued leave accounts; may require exempt employees to record and track hours; may require exempt employees to work specified schedule; and may implement across-the-board changes in schedule under certain circumstances

The above guidance is taken out of the U. S. Department of Labor Final Rule on 29 CFR 541. The impact of FLSA on management responsibility is minimal. The basic responsibility of managers and supervisors to effectively manage and control the work of the agency/department, and to make efficient use of money and manpower resources towards this end, is in no way altered by FLSA. Managers will continue to ensure that work is performed by employees when they need and want it performed, and equally they must also ensure that work is not performed when it is not needed and when they do not want it performed. FLSA gives special emphasis to this continuing responsibility. In addition, management cannot accept the benefits of a non-exempt employee's work without compensating the employee for that work. No work will be ordered to a non-exempt employee outside the normal work hours without a clear indication of approval by the manager or supervisor for overtime or compensatory time off if the employee has performed work over 40 hours a week.

As explained above, virtually all benefits previously allowed for exempt employees, e.g., absence of less than 8 hours may not be docked from an employee's pay, no requirement to clock in or out during the work day, are no longer authorized under the new revised rules. The 20% of non-exempt duties performed by exempt employees, which makes those employees eligible for overtime or compensatory time, if they work over 40 hours during the workweek, no longer applies. Therefore, the form which records the 20% non-exempt hours worked by exempt employees, to determine eligibility for overtime/compensatory time off, will no longer be required to be submitted to the Human Resources Division for approval. Exempt employees are not entitled to overtime pay or compensatory time off.

Exceptions to the exemptions will be appropriately communicated to the respective departments/agencies. This Circular is not intended to be all inclusive, therefore, the Department of Administration and the Civil Service Commission will conduct special orientations for all managers, supervisors and affected employees. This orientation will be coordinated with the Department of Administration Training and Development Division and the schedule will be announced by that office. Department/Agency heads are requested to allow for maximum participation of affected employees at this orientation.

PLEASE ENSURE THAT COPIES OF THIS CIRCULAR ARE DISSEMINATED TO THE AFFECTED EMPLOYEES IN YOUR ORGANIZATION.

Lastly, we hope the information provided above will give you a general understanding of how exemptions were determined for those employees occupying positions in executive, administrative, professional and other categories. If you have any questions concerning this matter, you may contact the Division of Personnel Management at 475-1131 or 475-1265.
